

Cancer

Ruling Planet

Before we continue, you should know that your ruling planet is the Moon

To better understand your life and things that go on in your life, is it essential to know the affects the Moon has on your life and astrology Map!

The Moon represents the personal self, the feelings and the unconscious. It is a reflection of the true self, represented by the Sun.

The Moon also stands for security and instinctual or habitual patterns, as well as the ability to relate to others, and to be nurturing to others.

The Moon rules Cancer and is exalted in Taurus.

It is often contrasted with the Sun as the female receptive principle versus the masculine or positive principle.

The Moon represents the feminine and nurturing part of oneself. In a male chart, the Moon represents the feminine within, or the anima and also indicates the type of partner you will attract.

The Moon also represents an attunement from the past, which operates at an instinctive or habitual level in your present life.
